

“A master in the art of living draws no sharp distinction between his work and his play; his labor and his leisure; his mind and his body; his education and his recreation. He hardly knows which is which. He simply pursues his vision of excellence through whatever he is doing and leaves others to determine whether he is working or playing. To himself, he always appears to be doing both.”

I HAVE A DREAM...

Wikipedia defines servant leadership as “a philosophy and set of practices that enrich the lives of individuals, build better organizations and ultimately creates a more just and caring world.” A servant leader focuses primarily on the growth and well being of people and the communities to which they belong. Traditional leadership generally involves the accumulation and exercise of power by one at the “top of the pyramid.” By comparison, the servant leader shares power, puts the needs of others first, and helps people develop and perform as highly as possible. Can you imagine what our world would be like if we all demonstrated this style of leadership to everyone we encountered?

I have a dream that the application of this philosophy could change the world!

I have a dream that I’ll be reunited with the “Dream Team” in a new business venture where we will have huge success but more importantly, share new unimaginable experiences. Every sentence will begin with an in the moment phrase versus one of “Remember when?”.

I have a dream that with our tremendous success I will be able to retire my parents, the most amazing servant leaders I know. They will be able to pursue their passions, travel, and spend more time with their grandchildren.

I have a dream that I will be able to financially support my sister with her mission work so she is able to continue her passion of reaching the lost in Thailand.

I have a dream that I will move my brother and his family to a warmer climate, somewhere that is surrounded by mountains, nature, and a place where he is able to discover his passion and experience true happiness.

I have a dream that my brother and I will travel around the world putting on leadership conferences that ignite souls and help others discover their potential through defining their opus and demonstrating servant leadership.

I have a dream that Shavonne will graduate from college. She will defy the odds and redefine the misconception that poverty and adversity means an individual is doomed for failure.

I have a dream that I can fund an organization that assists those children in foster care. I will be their silent voice and create a system where the well being of a child is the primary concern. I'll develop programs through this organization that equip the children with the necessary tools to become a success versus a statistic.

I have a dream that I'll marry the love of my life once we reunite again and will be able to start our lives together. I know this is true love because I am unable to fall asleep because reality is finally better than my dreams. We'll begin by traveling the world and visit with the numerous organizations and charities we fund. Our example of servant leadership will become extremely contagious!!!

Our friends and family will join us after our travels on our private island where we will reside in unison and happiness.

I have a dream that my dream will be my reality.

My Six PackWorldview-What I believe

"If you don't stand for something you will fall for anything." Malcolm X

God...I believe God desires a loving intimate relationship with me.

Discipline...I believe good character can only be accomplished by maintaining a disciplined lifestyle.

Influence...I believe that people do not care how much you know until they know how much you care.

People Development...I believe that a leader is great not because of his or her power but their ability to empower others to reach their full potential.

Personal Development...I believe in personal development and how critical it is to my growth on a personal and professional level.

Abundance...I believe in giving back to others without expecting anything in return.

Identity-Who I am

"Most people are other people. Their thoughts are someone else's opinions, their lives a mimicry, their passions a quotation." Oscar Wilde

I am a child of God who was created in his own image.

I am the loving daughter of Mike and Linda Oberbrunner.

I am a loyal friend to those in my inner circle.

Principles-What I value

"There are three constants in life... change, choice and principles." Stephen Covey

Humanity...I value the importance of my life and the lives of others.

Knowledge...I value the power of knowledge.

Time...I value time and know that it is a limited commodity that should never be spent unwisely.

Freedom...I value my freedom and know that I should never take it for granted.

Influence...I value genuine relationships and adding value to others.

Passion-What I Love

"Don't ask yourself what the world needs; ask yourself what makes you come alive. And then go and do that. Because what the world needs is people who have come alive." Howard Thurman

Family...I love my family and their unconditional love and support for me.

Inner Circle...I love how each person in my inner circle adds value to my life in their own special way.

Championship...I love goals and the sense of accomplishment I feel when I achieve them.

Mentors...I love my personal mentors for taking the time to invest in me, inspire my thinking and develop my characteristics so I can achieve my ambitions.

Stewardship...I love the talents God has blessed me with and the ability I have to bless others with them.

Character...I love the values my parents have instilled in me, and how they have helped to shape my character.

Purpose-Why I live and Work

"All successful people men and women are big dreamers. They imagine what their future could be, ideal in every respect, and then they work every day toward their distant vision, that goal or purpose." Brian Tracy

Servant hood...I live to touch the lives of those individuals I encounter each and every day, by showing them Gods' love.

Dream...I live and work to accomplish my dream. I know that the only thing that makes a dream impossible is the fear of failure.

Unifying Strategies and Scorecard for Significance

Personal Growth- By investing time into my own personal development, I am able to pour myself into others.

- Spiritual- Prioritize my spiritual well being over anything else by having a loving intimate relationship with God.
- Thinking- Becoming a good thinker will help me generate revenue, solve problems, create opportunities and goal set on a personal and professional level.
- Reading- I will be able to expand my knowledge by reading not only books in my area of expertise but outside my field as well. By exposing myself to new subjects, I will stimulate creative thinking.
- Experiences- Attend two to three live conferences per year to connect with others who will challenge me with their thinking and actions.
- Working Out- By placing my physical health as a priority, I will have more energy and confidence on a daily basis. I must do this in order to sustain myself through the good and bad times.

Philanthropy- I am able to give back and impact the lives of others by utilizing my God given talents.

- Global- Support my sister Kim through prayer and financial contributions each month so that she is able to continue to minister to the lost and offer them hope by teaching them who God is.
- Local- Support both of my parents' ministries through financial contributions each month so that they are able to continue to show Gods' love to others. Continue to mentor Shavonne by spending time with her and being a positive role model in her life. Volunteer throughout the year at the local ministries that my church supports.

Income Streams- I need to generate income in order to give freely to the many causes I am passionate about. I will do this by connecting people to the right products or services that they may need.

- Real Estate- Whether on the buyer or seller side of the transaction, I will keep my clients best interests ahead of those of any other party involved. I will not only learn from my mentor but also attend extra trainings offered so that I will have a high level of knowledge and expertise in order to advise and guide them through the process.
- Seacret- Utilize my ability and skill to determine those individuals who would be interested in the products that I have to offer. There will be other individuals that I connect with who want to start a business with a Network Marketing Company and at that point it is my responsibility to ensure they are trained and supported in this venture.

- Director of Events at Igniting Souls- Create live experiences that are not only memorable but more importantly that will bring forth life changing transformations. It is my responsibility to not only share the same vision with Kary but to represent him with integrity on a daily basis. I want to ensure that any individual who is part of our team knows that they are valued, and we are here to serve them.
