

PURPOSE

UNLEASH YOUR PURPOSE AND PASSION

TO

RELEASE YOUR VISION AND VOICE

I have a Dream....

I have a dream that never ends even when I am awake.

My days are filled with an awareness of who God has created me to be and what purpose He would have me fulfill. I see my purpose played out in the details of my day. I pray with discernment – I see with clarity – I act with urgency

I share my purpose and passion with others that come into my life. Some of the people I will know, others I may never met personally, but their lives have been changed because I have been faithful and obedient to the call God has placed in my life.

I clearly articulate my overarching vision

'Unleash Your Purpose and Passion to Release Your Vision and Voice.'

I have a dream that never ends even when I am awake.

My dream brings me to all corners of the earth. Places where people will stare and judge me because I look different. They will see the difference as light and strength.

I am standing in front of a group of 1 or 1000 people sharing the right words and asking the right questions that cause people to think. That is the beginning...they think. Then in my message and conversations their thinking shifts to a belief that each of them has been uniquely equipped by God to fulfill a specific purpose. The talk goes from me and my dream to we and our dream all centered on God. There is a surge of faith in that environment that transfers outside a physical room to move over an entire country. It is not about me or we. It is about He – the one who allows us all to dream.

I have a dream that never ends even when I am awake.

When I speak I am wearing my signature color – a deep pink. There has to be some element of sparkle or bling going on. I have several of my hoops with me by my side. My hoops are now part of who I am. That is awesome! Sometimes I will be wearing cowgirl boots while I speak and hoop. That is fun!

I have a dream that never ends even when I am awake.

I have a dream all my children believe in the one true God and are living a life directed by His guidance. My children live in a country that allows for freedom of speech and belief. In their days there is a revival that will change our nation and restore Godly values to the core of our country. My children come to me for wisdom and I do not judge, I love.

One day I will be a grandmother. My grandchildren will call me “MeMa” and will shower my grandchildren with genuine love and sweetness.

I have a dream that never ends even when I am awake.

In the next three years my husband, Michael, and I are settled in our new careers. His inventions for new medical devices that save lives are in hospitals throughout the world. I am a recognized speaker, author, and coach. Together we touch the lives of millions of people. We give all the glory to God. We do not forget that God blessed us with the strengths and gifts to make the dream a reality. We work together in our areas of strength and stand beside each other in our area of weakness. We are married until our death.

I have a dream that never ends even when I am awake.

Financially, my husband and I will have an income over two million dollars. We have a house in Whitefish Montana and another in North or South Carolina. We invite others to join us in our homes. The homes are used as retreat locations where others can come and hear our message and start on their own journey to fulfill their dream and God designed plan.

I have a dream that never ends even when I am awake.

I have a dream that I am 80 years old and living a full life without pain and illness. I inspire people to have fun. I will still be able to pull out my hoops and surprise the grandchildren. I continue to let God lead me and open the doors that He is calling me to go through. I am not afraid of dying because I have lived my dream and I have made a difference.

My dream ends when I finally go home.

Unifying Strategies

1. Strategy Name: Personal Growth

By myself I am limited to myself. By allowing the knowledge of others teach and lead me - my growth will be limitless

2. Strategy Name: Business Partnerships

I will be intentional about growing and inviting others to share in my dream. When there is not an alignment in values and culture – there will be no business

3. Strategy Name: Converging Experiences

God has blessed me with ideas and strengths that are not to be held onto. If I do not use them to my fullest capacity I will not be living out the gifts God has entrusted to me.

I may think I look silly, but I believe this is what makes God smile and laugh

4. Strategy Name: Captivating Resources

There is no settling for average!

5. Strategy Name: 360 degree Leadership

What I say and do will influence others. I must always remain a good steward of this responsibility.

Scorecard for Significance

Personal Growth

Read – What I read is a direct correlation to where my mind goes

Write - Journaling will cause me to reflect and push me towards the edge of comfort. This will only be accomplished if I am honest with myself.

Speak – My words will be an expression (in all aspects) of my dream

Listen – What I hear will remain with me and is a direct correlation to where my mind goes

Business Partnerships

Tribe – Building a tribe that desires to understand their unique place in God's plan and, if called, confidently voice and share their passion.

Cause - Identifying programs that allow a person to feel engaged in the tribe.

Space - Designing locations (local, distant, and on-line) that allow people to connect, develop and grow into the person they are uniquely called to be

Values – Identifying organizations that share similar core values

Converging Experiences

Teaching – Identifying systems to teach information causing the generation of new thinking

Mentoring – sharing all experiences and asking the right questions for participant growth and insight

Coaching – Working with others who are ready to move forward. They are ready to expose their passion and accept their purpose.

Speaking – Providing a venue that will equip any participant with the skills necessary to confidently speak and share their message with the world.

Captivating Resources

Written - Writing relevant information that will make the reader stop...think and compel them into action. They will never see a hula hoop in the same manner after they are introduced to this information.

Verbal – Speaking authentically from my own stories and message to empowering others to find their unique voice.

Visual – Creating visually appealing content that engages the mind and stirs the heart

Physical – Developing a sense of individual creativity by crafting unique items and ideas.

360 Degree Leadership

Connecting - Understanding that leadership is influence. Influence is rooted in trust and a true concern for others. This philosophy will be shared by all those involved.

Community – Creating a network of relationships with the common thread being the passionate love for God.

Dedicated Team – Developing a core team sharing and lifting up the weaknesses and strengths of the others.
